THE TOWER

NO NEWS TODAY.

testamonal to a turtle

again again

wait while the eaters end

a meal of conscience and flight. and never get over it.

reward neanderthals

and never get over it.

wait just a short amount of their time and none of your own.

and then listen to the creep of the slow.

yes the slowest creatures are ready.

when all there is to do is scurry

they do it best.

because they're ready.

they're ready with their eyes,

they're ready with their claws,

they're ready with their laws.

and they're ready with the inside of a long need.

and they never have to remember to be ready.

because they are.

as they creep.

again and again.

There is much that might be said at this time but it will have to wait or perish unrecorded. The promised vivisection of the student body is still pending but may well expand to cover the entire school or even the entire field of the arts. Meanwhile, as this is the season of good cheer I limit myself thus to wish you all a good holiday.
